ABOUT ME

I'm Davi Campos, a digital product designer based in London. For the past years I've been designing digital products for startups and larger corporations working for London based agencies The App Business and Impossible.

Clients include Tesco, RBS, Olympic Games Rio 2016 and Samsung.

EXPERIENCE

Digital product designer @ The App Business

Oct 2016 - Jan 2018

London

In The App Business agile setup I had most of the responsibilities of a Product Designer.

Creative duties involved:

- Collaborating with multiple designers and developers to deliver prototypes and production ready designs.
- Working with brand guidelines
- Work with large corporations to design web platforms and native mobile apps for iOS and Android.
- Work 'co-located' at client's site for long periods of time, working closely with the client and presenting design solutions to stakeholder.

Digital product designer @ Rio Olympics 2016

Jul 2016 - Sep 2016

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil

I joined Rio 2016 as a Product Designer, to tell stories through interactive platforms.

Creative duties involved:

- Conceptual development
- Creating wireframes and prototypes
- Designing responsive websites in multiple languages
- Art direction

Digital product designer @ Impossible

Apr 2013 - Jun 2016

London

My role as a Product Designer gave me a chance to work on big clients projects and close to developers.

Creative duties involved:

- Supporting user testing sessions
- Designing native apps for iOS and Android
- Designing responsive websites
- Prototyping concepts for mobile and web
- Branding
- Creating Illustrations
- Creating motion graphics

Graphic designer @ Ideias com peso

Apr 2012 - Oct 2012
